CASE IN COURT IS STILL OPEN, RULING HOLDS

An anonymous correspondent writes in to ask H. T.'s opinion with reference to the recent entertainment of a negro woman at a White House tea. This is subject that this column will avoid so far as lengthy discussion is concerned. If the mistress of the White House is minded to invite a negress to tea, H. T. has no objection, it being a matter for Mrs. Hoover to determine according to her own preference. H. T. has his own very definite opinion concerning the incident, which, it may be added, is in line with traditional Southern belief in matters touching the social equality between the races. Others may have their opinions. If the new social "custom" in Washington suits Mrs. Hoover, H. T. is not one to complain.

* * *

E. L. Witty returned yesterday morning following a visit at his old home in Waterdown, Tenn. He says he enjoyed the visit with relatives very much and for once in his life got tired of fried chicken. That must be a very satisfactory experience, to get tired of a delicacy like fried chicken.

The passage of the new law in Texas, as governing marriage has prompted a subscriber to write in wanting to know what H. T. thinks about a national law governing marriage and divorce. The writer suggests that while he believes the law is wholesome, its effect will be largely nullified in counties like Wilbarger, where it is a very simple matter for the couple to drive across the state line into Oklahoma and get married.

This fact is made the basis of an argument in favor of national laws governing marriage and divorce, and the writer wants to know if H. T. doesn't agree that we ought to have national laws on these subjects. For answer, the writer of this column will say that he does not agree for several reasons. One reason is that laws relating to these subjects would doubtless be brought to a lower level than the present average, with each state making its own laws. It is extremely unlikely, almost certain in fact, that marriage between whites and blacks would be permitted under a national law. Many states permit inter-racial marriages now and if Congress should undertake to legislate on this subject we would certainly witness a demand on behalf of so-called emancipation societies, backed up by politically influential white leaders who wish to profit by the negro vote, for removal of the ban in many states, especially in the South, against marriage between blacks and whites. In the South we know such marriages to be unwise and obnoxious to every social instinct among people who know the negro as Southern people do. It would inevitably lead to friction and bloodshed. Southern whites are friends of the negro and the two races get along amicably on terms satisfactory to both. It would be a very simple matter, however, for a few northern radicals in Congress to create a situation that would be productive of endless trouble.

There are other reasons why the writer of this column objects to a national marriage and divorce code, but the one cited above should be sufficient. It is improbable that national laws would be brought up to generally higher standards of the South. Most likely the level would be nearer the California-Nevada standard. Wouldn't it be better to worry along with a few objectionable features of present state laws, such as the one mentioned by our correspondent, than to adopt the standards of states that regard marriage merely as a matter of civil contract between two persons, who may negotiate or break the contracts to suit their own whims, ignoring racial lines and social customs that are still more or less sacred to some of us? Wouldn't it? It would. H. T. doesn't mind at all being different from some people.

OCEAN FLYERS GIVEN HONORS

YOUTH STOWAWAY COMES IN FOR SMALL SHARE OF TRIBUTE

PARIS, June 18.—(P)—The crew of the trans-Atlantic monoplane Yellow Bird will be received at the Chamber of Deputies, the Senate and the Hotel De Ville tomorrow, the highest honor that a Frenchman can receive.

Of all honors, a reception today by M. Laurenteyac, air minister, is probably one that gives the flyers the greatest satisfaction. The minister had refused to recognize the Yellow Bird's attempt. The ministry had frowned on all such attempts with machines not fitted with floats.

It was at the last minutes that the minister decided he could no longer refuse to give official recognition of the magnificent success. The minister now will recommend to President Doumergue that Jean Assolant and Rene Le Fevre, pilot and navigator of the plane, be awarded the decoration of chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

The crew of the plane today resumed their round of receptions and visits while Arthur Schreiber, of Portland, Me., their stowaway, went out to get measured for a full dress suit. He still is treated more or less as a member of the crew though he has been dismissed from the college, it was learned today.

Fitzhugh, an editor of the Harvard Advocate, a student monthly, was dismissed because of the injection, by means of an anagram, of immorality into the hymn. His dismissal came at the height of the commencement week activities, ushered in with a hanc-laureate program Sunday which included the singing of Fitzhugh's hymn.

He related, however, that Mr. Robinson, in issuing a notice of postponement of the sale of lands for which he had not received specific request, got the list of tracts twisted and placed in the postponed group Ward County lands for which he had received requests.

AUSTIN, June 18.—(P)—C. W. Trueheart's account of conferences with J. T. Robinson, commissioner of the general land office, in a futile effort to get postponement of advanced sale of oil and gas royalties in University lands, was unfolded to the House of Representatives today.

"I SUFFERED ALL MY LIFE WITH SICK HEADACHES," SAYS WICHITA WOMAN

Mrs. Wheeler Gains Daily on Orgatone — Now Understands Why So Many Praise It.

"It's the first time in years I've been free from serious sick headaches, in fact, I have suffered with them more or less all my life," said Mrs. C. W. Wheeler, residing on rural route six, Wichita Falls, Texas. Mrs. Wheeler is the wife of a well known employee of the Bay Sheep and Metal Works.

"For years," she continued, "I have hardly been able to eat a thing without suffering for hours afterward. Everything I would eat, even to the very lightest of diet, would sour and make me sick at my stomach and the gas would press so around my heart so I would hardly breathe. I couldn't relax and digest enough of my food to keep up my strength, and sometimes I was so weak I could hardly get through with my housework. I was so nervous and tired all the time I could hardly sleep at all and would get up in the mornings extremely worn out and feeling worse than when I lay down at night, and each day left me a little weaker."

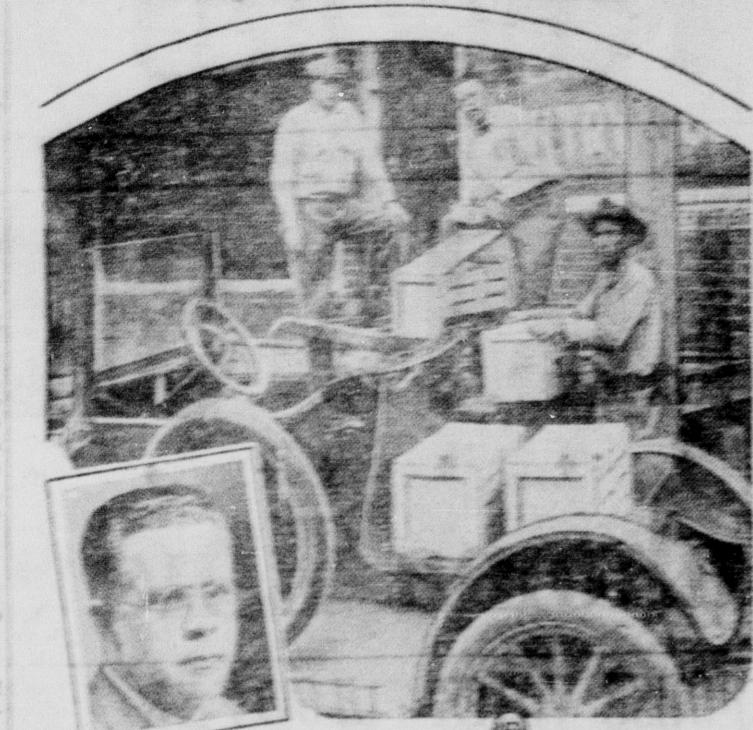

"No other medicine I took seemed to do me any good, but after about two weeks use of Orgatone my nerves got more quiet and I could sleep better and my appetite improved so that I could regain my food. I have now taken four bottles and those sick, dizzy headaches that bothered me for so long disappeared after I had finished my second bottle. Orgatone has done me a world of good and I can do all my housework with ease and feel better than I have in a long time. I am very thankful for what Orgatone has done and is doing for me, and if I can say anything to help others know about it I'm more than glad to do so."

When people pass middle age as in the case of Mrs. Wheeler, their digestive organs lack vitality and begin to act more slowly and less effectively than in youth; the circulation becomes poor and the blood gets thin; the appetite fails and the digestion grows weak.

Orgatone, the famous bile treatment, is the strength and body builder for middle-aged people, because it creates an appetite, strengthens digestion, and is a natural way strengthens and invigorates run-down nervous people.

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Vernon at the Vernon Drug Store.

Farmers are shown here unloading crates of strawberries at a Henryetta market.

War Debt Plan Does Not Need Approval of U.S.

Grasshoppers Are Damaging Crops in This County

Washington, June 18.—(P)—President Hoover announced today that the United States would not sign the Young reparation plan recently agreed upon by the experts conference in Paris.

The President said that since the American Government is not a party to the plan, it would not be necessary for the United States to sign it. The plan will therefore not have to be submitted to Congress for approval.

The only plan which Congress will have to determine, the President said, will be the granting of authority to the administration to make reparation to the grasshoppers before they are damaged.

The high winds have also damaged crops in several instances over the country, Mr. Parfitt said. It is not expected, however, that many farmers will have to complain as a result of the high winds.

CONSTABLE FACES CHARGE FOR KILLING OF YOUTH

Buchanan, Ga., June 18.—(P)—Constable Luke Bellinger was held here without bond today pending a hearing on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of Grady Phillips, youthful sawmill hand.

Phillips was shot Saturday night after he and three companions riding in an automobile failed to heed Bellinger's order to halt. The constable was attempting to arrest them on a complaint they were disturbing the peace.

While in pursuit with his own machine, the officer said he fired one shot at the tire of the youth's car. Phillips, in the back seat, was shot through the head. The machine halted. Bellinger searched it for liquor but found none.

UPHOLDING THE LAW

It is hardly possible to ignore the wave of slayings by officers in what is characterized as their effort to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment, even though to speak in any tone not actually endorsing the slayings is likely to subject one to the censure
of the radicals who are ready to designate any one as a disciple of the wets if he questions any measure, regardless of the severity, designed to enforce the prohibition law. Of course, The Record is not qualified to say that any one of the numerous recent killings in the name of prohibition was not justified, but the large number of such instances must prompt all reasonable minds to question the methods being used.

There are cases when an officer of the law is justified in using his gun in the line of duty. It is only natural that such instances will result fatally at times, but it seems that the marksmanship of officers in the Great Lakes area, as demonstrated recently, is very efficient.

When officers kill in the line of duty as frequently as the prohibition agents in the vicinity of the Great Lakes have recently, those directing the Government's campaign should be extremely careful. It is not a healthy state of affairs when officers of the law shoot indiscriminately, even when they know that those against whom they are directing their fire are law breakers, and of course there is always the possibility that the officer
may be mistaken and that his victim is innocent. Even if the person is guilty of a serious offense, the officer should remember that the exigencies of the situation must be stringent indeed to justify him in super-seding the courts in disposing of the criminal. Violation of the law does not justify another violation and more serious to apprehend the person guilty of the first offense.

In most cases lawbreakers can be arrested without bloodshed. The prohibition department should emphasize the desirability of methods that permit the courts to determine the crim-inal's guilt. It is possible that all the recent slayings have been justifiable and absolutely necessary in order to uphold the law, but it is much more reasonable to doubt that they were.
Such procedure is likely to engender sentiment against the enforcement of officers involved, and thereby work to their disadvantage. Those charged with the responsibility of directing the prohibition enforcement should be certain that officers under their charge are conscientious, and are honestly trying to uphold the law.

EQUALITY OF OPPORTUNITIES

Professional instructors in their addresses outside of their colleges and universities frequently extol the opportunities in the profession in which they are interested. The youngster is told that the profession offers unprecedented opportunities, and that it has hardly begun to approach the scope of its development with sweeping freedom that must convince many impressionable listeners that the profession under discussion offers an opportunity to get in early and go forward on the accumulative development of the profession.

The youngster who enters a profession in this modern age is likely to be disappointed. It is true perhaps that new inventions are to a certain extent opening up new fields of activity that may for a short time have unusual potentialities while the overflow from closely related vocations are flooding it. However, as a rule opportunities are about the same in all professions nowadays.

Willingness to shift from one vocation to another on the part of a great number of economically ambitious men has worked to equalize the opportunities in all lines of endeavor.
The man educated for law or for medicine not infrequently turns to business or to journalism. Similarly it is true that the man who completes a college course in business administration or perhaps engineering, after a short time in business, returns to the university and acquires the technical qualifications requisite to the practice of law or medicine.

In fact questioning of the members of a profession will reveal a surprising number who prepared for other work in life, but in a manner drifted into their present work in following the path of least resistance in the economic world. Many are persons who spent several years in colleges and universities preparing for a vocation which they soon deserted. It need be no marked disad-vantage to the institutions to state that these men often are very successful in their adopted vocations, despite the fact that their specialized training was designed to fit them for something else. Rather it is a compliment to the broad foundation that accrues from development of the capacity for thought, even when that development follows specialized lines.

Likewise it is a recognition of the virtue of determination and perseverance.

Success awaits the young man in almost every profession if he is resolute in his determination to attain it.
There are few, if any, vocations
where the illusive upper levels are to be had merely for the asking.

Hoover Reported
Taking Hand in Law Enforcement

Washington, June 18.—(AP)—Activities in administrative circles to meet the rising tide of discussion in connection with the use of firearms in the Government's effort to check rum running along the Canadian border
were viewed by some Washington observers today as indicating President Hoover himself had taken a hand in the matter.

Assistant Secretary Lowman of the Treasury, in charge of prohibition enforcement, has announced the issuance of a new order designed to reduce the likelihood of unnecessary shooting, limiting the arms of customs patrolmen along the border to service rifles. Heretofore, some of the patrolmen have carried rifles or shotguns.

That order is ascribed by the Washington Post today to President
Hoover, who, the newspaper says,
"bemused in on all sides by prohibition protests and pressures, for a time will direct prohibition enforcement itself under a semi-martial law agreement." Citing visits at the White House yesterday by Senator Wesley Jones of Washington, author of the Jones law, and Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. It also says "Mr.
Hoover has asked for reports on recent killings" and "has conferred with Treasury and Justice Department officials."

The Tractor That Says
"Come On, Let's Go!"

A CLETRAC on your farm is a standing invitation to get work done! Any day—every day—it is an inspiration for your work
—a willing partner that says "Come on, let's do it,"—and then does it for you.

On the plowing job, for instance. Climb into Cletrac's wide, easy seat. Start down the field and note the deep, clean furrows rolling off the shares. How solid your Cletrac feels under you and how easily and surely it moves along.
At the end of the field you turn it sharply around and start back. Isn't it great not to have one side of the tractor way down in the furrow!* You sit perfectly level all the time.

How quickly the furrows multiply. There are no delays because Cletracs

PROSPECT OF SENATE HOLDING REVISION OF TARIFF TO FARM LIMITS SEEN IN CLOSE VOTE

Washington, June 18.—(P)—The possibility was held out to Congress today that the tariff measure may be rewritten in the Senate by the Democratic-Republican Independent group which twice overrode President Hoover in the farm relief contest and that it may be rewritten with a view to confining revision principally to agricultural products.

The group has shown its strength anew in its support of the resolution of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, which proposed to instruct the finance committee to discard the House tariff bill and limit revision to agricultural and related products and was defeated by a margin of only one vote—39 to 38. That vote left the Republican majority of the finance committee free today to proceed with its rewriting of the House bill as it sees fit for the next two months. But it made clear that the whole task will be gone over again after the measure is taken up in the Senate.

The recess was proposed by Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, at the end of one of the hottest days of the summer, and the first overwhelming vote in the Senate at this session was forthcoming. Only twelve Republicans and eleven Democrats voted against it.

The quick work of both the House and Senate in enacting the appropriation of $151,000,000 asked by Mr. Hoover to carry out the new farm relief act assured the recess. Within a few hours after the President had submitted the estimate for the appropriation yesterday, the amount was available—one of the speediest legislative transactions involving such a sum in many a day.

The recess is just long enough to cover the time the finance committee is estimated to need for its work on the tariff bill. Determined to get the tariff bill through the Senate and out of conference with the House before the regular session opens in December, administration leaders insisted that no longer than two months be given over to the recess.

METHODISTS STAGE RALLY TO DEFEAT CHRISTIANS

SMITH'S TRIPLE WITH BASES LOADED IN LAST FRAME ENDS INTERESTING LEAGUE CONTEST

Coming from behind with an efficacious eleventh-hour rally, the Methodists, members of the Vernon Sunday School Baseball League, won one of the most interesting games of the season yesterday when they beat the Christians 4 to 3 on the City Park field. The score was tied in the fourth when the Methodists pushed over two tallies after the Christians' first in the opening frame and the second in the fourth. In the fifth the Christians hit another one over and made dire threats to score again before they were finally downed in the longest inning of the game. Then came the rally and the game was over with no outs in the last of the fifth.

Phillips, hurling for the Christians, exercised fair control over his offerings for three innings, allowing only one safety, but with the coming of the fourth he seemed to let down, and was tapped freely for two triples and three doubles that tied the count twice and finally gave the Methodists the lead.

Langford, Methodist pitcher, approached what was almost the sensational yesterday in the second and third innings when he closed one inning in order with strike outs, and saw the other concluded with no hits. He more than made up for his loose beginning, and was accorded good field support.

The Methodists practically cinched second place on the league ladder by their win yesterday, but a Christian victory over the Baptists would leave the Christians in a tie for the position.

Deason and Wilkins, opening for the Christians, grounded to Carney and were out at first. Current smacked one for a neat single and scored on Burgess' triple to right field. Shumaker closed with three whiffs. The Methodists retired in order.

The second and third frames were quiet, with Bell the only hitter and few others getting on bases. Deason, Wilkins, and Current went down swinging in order in the third.

Burgess opened the fourth with a nest double to center. Shumaker got in the way and Wright bounced one to Bell at third who tagged Burgess, letting Shumaker to third and on home when he failed to stop a low throw. Wright was caught off second and Buchanan went down swinging.

Lewis grounded out to Current to start the Methodists' fourth, but Smith followed with a sharp double, advancing on Tabor's single, and scored.

LEADERS LOSE IN TEXAS LOOP

CHESTY LOT OF SECOND DIVISION CLUBS FALL ON HIGHER-UPS

(By the Associated Press)
The bottom dropped out from under the Texas League leaders yesterday, and the Spudders' winning streak of eleven straight games was caught in the crush. It is doubtful that President Roberts' circuit ever before harbored as chesty a lot of second division clubs.

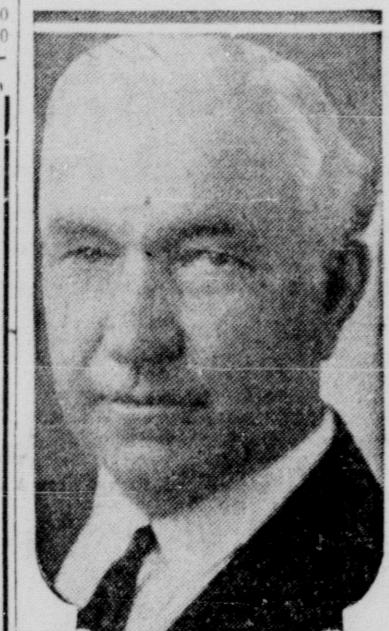

Dallas, Wichita Falls and Shreveport suffered alike at the hands of the vengeful downstaters. The Spuds had perhaps the most humiliating experience, dropping their series final to San Antonio, 23 to 3. The question is open to argument, however, as neither the Steers nor the Sports got as far as home plate. Gus Foreman, Buff right-hander, stopped the leaders cold with five hits to win a 5 to 0 verdict, while the veteran Denny Burns limited the Sports to four blows as the Exporters swept their series, 6 to 0. Fort Worth and Waco enjoyed an off day.

Needless to say, the southern uprising round the pennant column a little tighter. Shreveport, meeting its sixth straight defeat, found itself on the ragged edge of the second division today, with three clubs, Fort Worth, Waco and San Antonio in a deadlock for the other first division berths. Beaumont, seventh, was only a game and a half out of third place. Beaumont, seventh, was only a game and a half out of third place. The Buffs, holding up the procession, had lost only five more games than the Steers in first place.

The pilgrimage of northern clubs neared its close today as all squared off against new opponents. Having dropped two of three at Houston, the pace setting Steers drew the bucolic Beaumonters as their last southern opposition. Shreveport, its bubble apparently burst, engaged the Buffaloes. Wichita Falls invaded the notorious Katy Park at Waco, and the Fort Worth kittens trooped into San Antonio for a trio.

NEVER SAW ITS EQUAL, HE SAYS

"I believe I had about the worst case of stomach trouble in Texas, but after taking two bottles of Sargon and one bottle of Sargon Soft Mass Pills, I am in the very pink of condition.

W. H. NEWBY
"Right after every meal I would have sour stomach. I suffered day and night. I was at dinner one day and a sharp pain hit me right under my liver and extended through to the pit of my stomach and almost 'knocked me out.' I was dizzy for hours afterwards and the pain just stayed in my side."

"My kidneys were acting so freely I had to be up four or five times every night. Loss of sleep made me weak and nervous and my whole system was badly run down. My liver was out of order, I was badly constipated, and was continually taking laxatives."

"Since taking the wonderful Sargon treatment my only trouble is to keep from eating too much, and I never have a sign of indigestion. All the pain is gone from my side, my nerves are in fine shape, and I sleep fine. No longer constipated. Sargon Soft Mass Pills certainly are wonderful for they do their work thoroughly without griping like other laxatives."

"I had read a lot about Sargon, but I never had the slightest idea I would get such remarkable results from it in so short a time."

The above statement was made by W. H. Newby, well-known resident of Dallas. He owns the Live and Let Live Barber Shop at 3906-A Holmes St.

Sargon may be obtained in Vernon at Huber's City Drug Store; in Harrold at Oliver Drug Co. Adv.

MACKMEN DROP BRACE IN ROW

ATHLETICS EXPERIENCING FIRST SLUMP OF THIS SEASON

(By the Associated Press)

Having lost two games in a row, Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics are experiencing their first slump of the season.

The A's dropped the last game of the Cleveland series on Sunday and then bowed to the Chicago White Sox 6 to 4, yesterday.

The chances are Mack is doing little worrying. The standings this morning showed the Athletics seven and one-half games in front of the second place New York Yankees who took two out yesterday to beat Bridgeport of the Eastern League 3 to 2.

In the only other American League action of the day, Detroit and Boston split a double bill. The Sox bunched hits off Owen Carroll behind fairly effective pitching of Charlie Ruffing to win the first game 6 to 5. The Tigers clouted Milt Gaston's offerings to all corners of the lot to take the second 8 to 3.

St. Louis and Pittsburgh marched along in the hot National League struggle, the Cardinals shelling the Cubs into defeat by 13 to 3, while Pittsburgh was nosing out Cincinnati, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., snapped on her recent vacation at Sea Island Beach, Saint Simons Island, Ga. Mrs. Howell is the daughter-in-law of the publisher of the Atlanta Constitution.

The results left the Cards on top of the pack with Pittsburgh half a game or two percentage points behind. The Cubs dropped to a game and a half behind the Pirates, and only two games ahead of John McGraw's New York Giants.

Younger Declares Consolidation Is Only Cure for Evils of Small School, Seeks Support of Tax Levy

Declaring that consolidation offers the only feasible solution for the numerous problems that hamper the effectiveness of the small school, Ira V. Younger, superintendent of the newly formed high school consolidated district including the elementary districts of Kincheloe, Antelope, Haney, Guggisberg, and Parsley Hill, in an interview called on the voters of his district to support the consolidation.

Mr. Younger attempts to prove from an unbiased standpoint the ultimate success that will follow the move, taking into consideration all the pitfalls and benefits that will naturally arise.

"Consolidation", says Mr. Younger, "is the one and only feasible cure for the evils of the small school", and he continues with a view of the advantages of the consolidated school. These advantages are summed up as follows:

"The provision of a competent faculty made possible by the magnitude of the school; elimination of tardiness and growth of attendance due to regular transportation; a larger high school attendance, the result being state affiliation and numerous credits; better classification of students on basis of advancement; addition of extra units of credit and extra curricula activities; contact with a larger number of people; better physical facilities; greater protection of morality; the adaptation of studies to environment; non-sacrificial advantages of city school life; meets desire for association."

"The original idea was to establish a rural high school district, but there came so much agitation for the abolition of the elementary districts that an election has been called to determine whether the district shall be abolished. The election for a tax of $1 on the $100 valuation, originally called for June 29, has been postponed and will be held on the same day that the people vote on abolition of the elementary districts, probably late in July."

Two pitfalls or dangers to evade are discussed by Mr. Younger in connection with the voting of the levy for the bond. The first is the danger of making the bond too small, thereby leaving the district in a cramped position for many years. The other danger would be making a bond that will demand the resources necessary for the maintenance of the school from year to year.

In a recent conference with A. M. Blackman, chief supervisor of high schools, according to Mr. Younger, Mr. Blackman stated that if the plans for the school were carried out the school would be classified as a first class four-year high school, with sixteen units being required for graduation, and that within three or four years the school would have complete affiliation with 26 credits.

AUSTIN COUPLE SHOT TO DEATH

CORONER SAYS MAN SLEW WIFE AND HIMSELF WITH SHOTGUN

Austin, June 18—(P)—John Sanders, 52, was found dead from gunshot wounds, and his wife, about 45, in a dying condition, today when neighbors, aroused by the sound of shots, entered the tent in which the couple lived near here.

Sanders had been shot through the neck by a single barrel shotgun found nearby, and the woman had been struck in the stomach by a charge from the same weapon. She died at a hospital without making a statement.

Officers who questioned neighbors said Sanders, who formerly engaged in farming but had not worked recently, was in all health.

Coroner Bryan Blalock said he would return a verdict of death from gunshot wounds fired by Sanders.

Memphis, Texas, June 18—(P)—Virgil Pointer, 52, was at liberty on $8,000 bond today, after having been charged with the slaying of his brother, John, two years his junior.

Virgil Pointer told friends he shot his brother after John had attacked him with a club. The shooting took place near Turkey.

TWO AIR CRASHES TAKE LIFE IN GERMANY MONDAY

Berlin, June 18—(P)—Dispatches to the capital today reported two air crashes in Germany Monday, with one death.

In Leipzig the aviation student Benno Hacke during an examination flight crashed from an elevation of 500 feet totally demolishing the airplane. He was killed.

At Munich Captain Hans Schonger, teacher of aviation, crashed from 1,000 feet while stunting. He suffered serious internal injuries.

PICTURES TELL LIFE STORIES OF YOUNG COUPLE WHO MAY BE KING AND QUEEN OF BRITAIN

These pictures tell the life stories of the two young people who may be the next rulers of Great Britain—the Prince of Wales and Princess Ingrid of Sweden, whose engagement to the prince is expected to be announced in the near future. She is 19 and he will be 35 on June 23.

At the left is the prince as he looks today—the oldest royal English royal bachelor, with a single exception, since the time of the Stuarts, 200 years ago.

Then we have the prospective king and queen as they looked in their childhood. Above is Wales at the age of four and to the right Ingrid is shown as she appeared when seven years old. The insets beneath them show Ingrid (left) at the age of six, and Wales at seven.

Next to these pictures we have Ingrid, above, as she looked when she attended the wedding of Princess Patricia. She was eight years old at that time; beneath her is Wales, photographed in the same year, 1919.

Seated, to the right, is Wales as he looked when he was sixteen years old. Below Ingrid is shown at the time of her visit to the United States in 1925.

At the extreme right is a photograph of the charming princess as she looks today. It was taken when she put on her first court dress, which she wore at her first court in the Royal Palace at Stockholm.

SENSATION PROMISED IN DEATH OF OHIO CO-ED

Columbus, O., June 18—(P)—Intent upon their hunt for evidence in the hammer slaying of Theora Hix, 23-year-old co-ed, authorities today predicted sensational developments in their investigation as they centered their inquiry about Marion T. Meyers, taken from a cell at midnight and questioned before the girl's mutilated body early today.

Meyers, a former suitor and a friend of Dr. James H. Snook, also held for investigation in the slaying made the trip to the morgue complaining of lack of rest, but he touched the body and answered questions without wavering in his denial that he knows how the girl came to her death.
